

SENECA

SPOTLIGHT

Coming soon to a neighborhood near you!

One neighborhood at a time, the Seneca Police Department plans to get to know their neighbors by sitting down over a meal to have truly meaningful conversation with the people they serve. The program began in April of this year as a part of the police department's community outreach program and the result has been nothing short of fantastic.

The whole department is involved with planning and holding a free outdoor meal, all designed to promote real conversations with community residents, talking about issues that concern them most. From babies to seniors and all ages in between, the atmosphere is fun, laid back, and informative.

So far, four block parties have been held, with two more planned for fall. Watch for a block party coming to your neighborhood!
