Summer Happenings in Seneca

Seneca city administrator Scott Moulder donned his patriotic garb and served as emcee for the Freedom 250 birthday bash at the new Alexander Amphitheater on July 10th. Shown here with him is the headliner act StoneEcho who, with other bands, entertained approximately 1,500 people that night. Photos courtesy Becky Moulder.
